

Sandy Keathley, from McKinney Firearms Training, conducted Church Security Training for our volunteer church safety/security team. His 8-hour course was very beneficial for our team as we began having a regular safety/security team for our church. He taught us both in the classroom and on the firing range techniques that will help us recognize any potential threat and address the situation accordingly in the event of such occurrence (which we hope will never happen!). His insights into helping us upgrade our building security where needed in order to improve the safety of our church was invaluable. I highly recommend McKinney Firearms Training if your church is just beginning to start a church security team or need a refresher for your team. Your parishioners will be glad you did. Darren L.
